

A Problem For The Coming Year

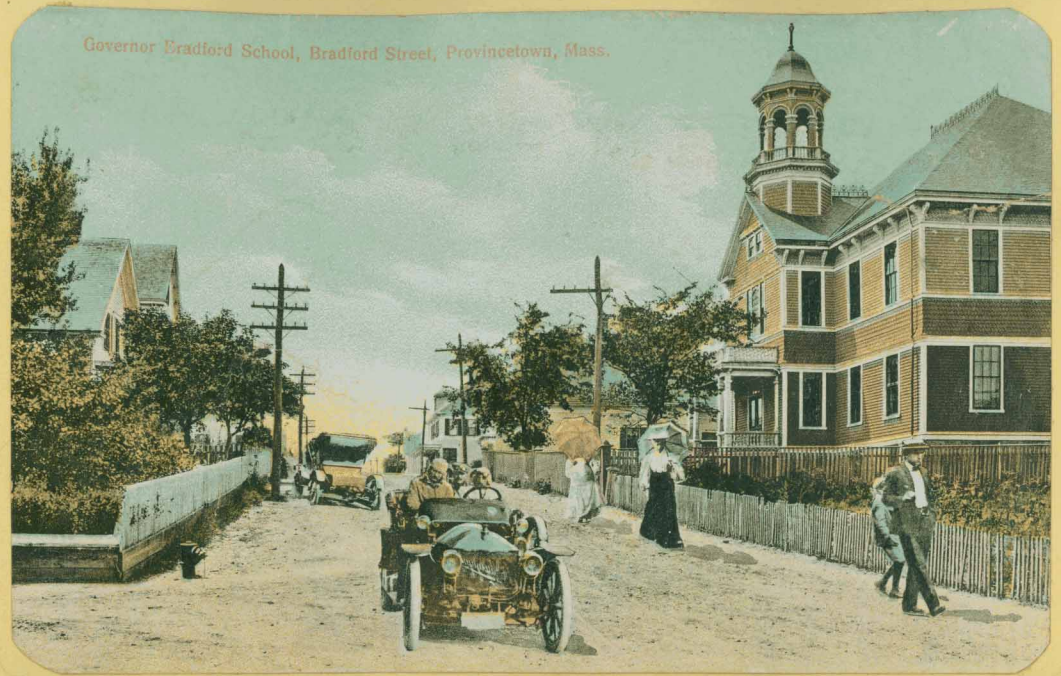

1439

December 29, 1955

John D. Bell Photo

With the completion of the beautiful Veterans Memorial Elementary School during the past year, the Center and Western antiquities were torn down and their sites made into parking lots. But the Governor Bradford School, less than 20 years old is an attractive building that has been well maintained. Members of the Morris-Light Post, American Legion, would like to have it as headquarters building. It has been mentioned as a possible medical center. Many feel that it would be ideal for a Community Center, a plan on which the Nautilus Club is now working.

Governor Bradford School, Bradford Street, Provincetown, Mass.

Facing West about 1910 - Atlantic Avenue on the left.

The New Governor Bradford School, built 1935, on the same spot, from below Conant Street, facing East. To right of school is St. Peter's Catholic Church on Prince St. - August 1940