

row Land, this week's rescue demonstrated anew the constant need for the vigilance of the well-trained Coast Guard. It was on September 7, 1953 that 13 seamen were rescued by breeches buoy from the Eugenia, a Panamanian freighter which went aground on Peaked Hill Bar.

The 70-foot Margaret Rose was built in 1943 and said to be valued at $45,000.